Women Who Wear Well.

It is astonishing how great a change a few years of married life often make in the appearance and disposition of many women. The freshness, the charm, the brilliance vanish like the bloom from a peach which is rudely handled. The matron is only a dim shadow, a faint echo of the charming maiden. There are two reasons for this change, ignorance and neglect. Few young women appreciate the shock to the system through the change which comes with marriage and motherhood. Many neglect to deal with the unpleasant pelvic drains and weaknesses which too often come with marriage and motherhood, not understanding that this secret drain is robbing the cheek of its freshness and the form of its fairness.

As surely as the general health suffers when there is derangement of the health of the delicate womanly organs, so surely when these organs are established in health the face and form at once witness to the fact in renewed comeliness. Nearly a million women have found health and happiness in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Ingredients on label—contains no alcohol or harmful habit-forming drugs. Made wholly of those native, American, medicinal roots most highly recommended by leading medical authorities of all the several schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments.

For nursing mothers, or for those broken-down in health by too frequent bearing of children, also for the expectant mothers, to prepare the system for the coming of baby and making its advent easy and almost painless, there is no medicine quite so good as "Favorite Prescription." It can do no harm in any condition of the system. It is a most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nervine nicely adapted to woman's delicate system by a physician of large experience in the treatment of woman's peculiar ailments.

Dr. Pierce may be consulted by letter free of charge. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

RIOTOUS STRIKERS.

Following a day of rioting, in which two strikebreakers were shot, others were driven from town, and the life of President Riggs, of the Chester Traction Company, was threatened by a mob which gathered about his hotel, Gov. Stuart, of Pennsylvania, yesterday afternoon ordered an "adequate force" of State constabulary to proceed at once to Chester. Martial law probably will be declared as soon as the troops arrive.

It is also a well-authenticated fact that hand grenades and small bombs are in the possession of the rioters, who threaten to use them in destroying tracks, switches, and any cars that are run. Dynamite has been stored in various hiding places in the countryside. One load stored in a disused quarry on the outskirts of Delaware county went off accidentally last night. The man guarding it got away.

It is certain that the city police and firemen will withdraw their protection from the traction company as much as possible when the troopers arrive. The amazing situation is presented in Chester of the officials of the city all tacitly in sympathy with the strikers. Mayor Johnson scathingly condemned the officials of the company yesterday for attempting to start the car service without his permission.

In the afternoon a mob of 200 gathered in front of the Imperial Hotel, where President Riggs is stopping. Threats to "put a bullet through Riggs" if he should come out were shouted. Mr. Riggs said he would not attempt to leave the hotel without a bodyguard of police.

Enraged at the summoning of State constabulary to protect the strike breakers, more than 5,000 strikers and their sympathizers routed the local police by displaying revolvers, blackjacks and clubs. They gathered in the center of the city and declared they would battle with the troopers as they entered.

Howling and hurling defiance to the head of the traction company, and occasionally shooting a dozen revolvers at a time, the mob swarmed through every street in the heart of the city from 7 to 9 o'clock last night. The entire town was thrown into a state of terror. The parade and the threat to open warfare upon the troopers caused people to flee from the streets and barricade themselves in their homes.

THREW BABY INTO SEA.

When the steamship Statendam, of the Holland-America Line, arrived at New York yesterday the 257 steerage passengers on board were in a state bordering on panic over the action of Mrs. Bertha Lzybik, one of their number, she having on Sunday night last thrown overboard the body of her one-year-old child Elsie, who, it was said, died from convulsions during the trip.

Immediately following the child's supposed death more than half of the steerage passengers, being superstitious, insisted that the mother bury the infant at sea at once. These passengers declared that if Mrs. Lzybik didn't bury the child immediately the ship would sink. Close to midnight an officer on the main deck saw about 50 of the steerage passengers congregated around the rail aft. He saw some small object tossed out into the water and heard a shrill cry of agony. Then he saw the dark figures file back into the steerage.

Hurrying below the officer began an investigation. It took him some time to get an idea of the facts and the ship was then miles beyond the spot where the baby had been thrown overboard. Surgeon Kelly was sent for. He found the mother in a highly wrought up state of mind and ordered that she be placed under restraint.

As nearly as can be ascertained the baby became unconscious Saturday night after an illness of only two hours, but there are those aboard the Statendam who were uncertain that the child was dead when consigned to the waters, it being believed that the little one had been seasick and could have been relieved. A storm was raging at the time. The frantic mother sought to keep her child with her until she reached America and met her husband. This determination added to the excitement of the ignorant element in the steerage, who insisted the baby was the cause of the storm, to allay which it was necessary that she be cast into the sea. The mother finally yielded.

DANGEROUS SECT.

A dispatch from Medicine Hat, Manitoba, says at the trial of the nine members of the sect known as "Dreamers," for burning John Lehr's home, south of Medicine Hat, the testimony revealed that members of the orders had to obey the instructions of the leaders who, because Lehr refused to join the congregation, ordered his followers to destroy Lehr's home and slay his family at midnight. Michael Brost's testimony was sensational. He said he had been a "Dreamer," but severed his connection with the organization when the members began talking of burning and killing. He stated that Jacob Merkels and David Haufman, of Java, South Dakota, were the heads of the order. Markels was called the "sun" and Haufman the "moon." At the Saturday meetings dreams were told by members and interpreted by young Markels. The dreamer had to carry out the purpose of his dream as instructed. John Lehr's name had come up at meetings, and it was agreed to burn him out. The "Dreamers" believed in killing everyone who did not believe with them. The witness testified he had received letters threatening to kill him, because he had renounced the faith. The witness said he knew the prisoners had burned George Meyer's barn. Lehr experienced considerable difficulty in rescuing his family, consisting of his wife and six children. The family lost all their clothing.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

FRIDAY EVENING, APR. 17, 1908.

ATTORNEY GENERAL BONAPARTE announces that he can discover no violations of the law in the management of the paper trust. It is quite likely that the paper trust, as well as the steel trust, the lumber trust, the sugar trust and all the rest of the tariff-fostered combinations, manages to keep on the shady side of the law. At any rate, if a violator of the law it will takes years to punish it. In the meantime the standpatters in Congress refuse to grant to the publishers of the newspapers of the country the only adequate measure of relief in repeal of the pulp and paper duties; and yet they pretend that they are in favor of revising the tariff. It was discovered today that the attorney general had in mind the United States district attorney at New York city when he recently informed Speaker Cannon, in response to a House resolution, that the Department of Justice had turned over all its information relating to the paper trust "to the district attorney of the appropriate district, with orders to have made by a grand jury a through investigation." Mr. Purdy, who had direction of the investigation, is in New York today consulting with District Attorney Stimson relative to the case. Stimson has been instructed to begin prosecution if sufficient evidence can be secured.

PEOPLE have become accustomed to adulterated foods, liquors and drugs but the adulteration of waters would seem to be the limit. Before the New York senate committee on judiciary on Wednesday Robert C. Morris, former chairman of the New York republican committee and counsel for a carbonic gas company, openly charged that "the hundreds of thousands of persons who quaff Saratoga waters drink a medicine or beverage, doctored with salt, citric acid and other chemicals, carbonated with vitriol and marble dust. Defenders of the springs confessed that in some instances the charge might prove well founded, but excused the adulteration by saying that this method was the only one that could save the great national health resort from ruin. "One spring gave out in 1890," said Mr. Morris. "A pump was installed. Ordinary water was put into the bottling-house tanks in a private room, and after the injection of chemicals it was sold to the trade." The admission alone of the defenders of Saratoga Springs is calculated to curtail the use of that water to the extent of saving that great national health resort from ruin!

IN THE House yesterday a bill was introduced creating a currency commission to investigate all currency and banking conditions and financial practices and to formulate a plan of permanent currency and banking legislation adequate to the needs of the business of the United States; also a bill for the establishment of a bureau of mines in the department of the interior and providing for the appointment of a commissioner of mining, whose duty it shall be to make investigations into mining methods and consider the safety of miners, the possible improvement of conditions and the general promotion of the mining industry throughout the United States. The many propositions introduced in Congress for the appointment of commissions to do all sorts of things is a tacit admission on the part of the congressmen introducing them that they want to be relieved of many of the duties that they are paid to perform.

JUDGE DELACY, of the Juvenile Court, expressed himself as being strongly in favor of the passage of a curfew law for the District of Columbia in a speech made on Monday night at the monthly meeting of Continental Chapter, D. A. R. He declared that no child should be on the streets after 8 p. m. unless accompanied by an adult, and objected to permitting children to skate on Pennsylvania avenue and other prominent throughfares after nightfall. The curfew law has proven beneficial wherever tried. Children in all cities are now given too much license, the ill effect of which is shown by the conduct of the average member of the rising generation.

THERE was never as much tariff reform sentiment in the country as there is now; never before were manufacturers themselves all over the country organizing to insist on tariff revision, and few of them expect to get it from the republican party. Tariff revision should be made the main issue in the next presidential election.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, D. C., April 17.

The goverment's fight for the dissolution of the fertilizer combine was resumed before U. S. District Judge McCall of Nashville today. Assistant Attorney General Sandford was sent from Washington to deliver an argument there against the demurrers and other legal impediments devised by the Virginia and Carolina Chemical Co., to defeat the indictments bought under the criminal clause of the anti-trust law. Among other things the cobcern attacks the validity of the indictments on the the ground that Judge Sandford and other representatives of the department of justice had no right to be present in the grand jury room when the case was being considered. The government's expectation is to have the cases against the so-called trust tried on their merits at the May term of the federal court.

Children will be in great demand about the White House next Monday. On this occasion, the public and not the president will demand the youngsters, for it will be "egg rolling day," the one day in the year all the "kids" in Washington, are invited to take possession of the White House lawns. From 9 a. m. until 1 p. m. the grounds will be in absolute possession of the little tots, and if you happen to be a grown-up person, you will not be permitted to enter the gates unless you are accompanied by a little boy or girl. Last year the enterprising youngsters of the capital did a rushing business hiring themselves out for five or ten cents a piece, to escort gentlemen and ladies past the guards at the gates.

The dismal predictions made earlier in the season, as to the future of European crops, have not, according to a report from the foreign correspondents of the Department of Agriculture, been fully realized. Conditions are much improved as a rule. The tendency has been in the direction of a general equalization of crop conditions throughout Europe, the under-average conditions in Russia, especially in the case of wheat, being in a manner offset by over-average conditions in the crops of Spain, Roumania, Bulgaria and Turkey.

There will be no republican caucus to push the Aldrich bill through the House. There will merely be a "conference" of House members on the currency question. Continued canvassing of the House by the republican whip, Mr. Watson, has revealed the fact, it is said, that the Aldrich bill has not grown much in popularity, nor have the Vreeland amendments evoked enthusiasm. The Fowler men had let it be known that they would have "previous engagements" on the night proposed for a caucus and would refuse to be bound by any caucus action. It is uncertain whether they will attend a simple "conference." They would rather have no legislation than to see the Aldrich bill passed, in any form. They concede there is small hope for the Fowler bill this session. There strength united with the democrats would suffice, it is generally believed, to defeat the Aldrich bill. A conference would do away with the solemn and binding characteristics of a caucus, and would let the republican leaders get a good line on what, if anything, can be done. All attempts to pledge the republicans to vote for any one measure are said to have been given up. The conference may agree to support the currency commission bill, introduced by Mr. Fowler yesterday, or a similar measure, designed to postpone all financial legislation until the next session, and let it go at that. The Aldrich bill met its doom in the House committee on banking and currency today, when it was laid on the table. Consideration was given by the committee to the Fowler currency commission bill, but no report was agreed upon. Mr. Vreeland will be heard in advocacy of his bill. The Fowler currency commission bill was discussed, but no report on it ordered.

With an adverse report the House committee on judiciary today killed the plea to have the United States government buy blocks of mountains from New England to Florida and convert them into a gigantic national forest reserves.

Sixtieth Congress.

Washington, April 17.

SENATE.

The Senate today passed a bill giving St. Lake City the right to maintain a pipe line across Fort Douglas military reservation.

An amendment to the naval bill was presented to the Senate today by Senator Lodge. It authorizes the Secretary of the navy to purchase three new steam colliers of American registry, at a total cost of $1,827,529.

An effort was made in the Senate this afternoon by Mr. Overman to pass his anti-injunction bill, unanimously reported recently by the judiciary committee, but it met with the determined opposition of Mr. Hepburn who, among other things, declared that "it was such a radical invasion of legal procedure," that it should be given maturer consideration.

The measure aims to prevent the recurrence of any such legal entanglements as brought about a crisis between the government of North Carolina and the Southern Railroad, and in other States a year ago and provides that no temporary restraining order shall be issued against the operation of a State law, by any federal judge, unless the application shall be presented and heard by three federal judges, two of whom must be circuit judges, and unless a majority of the three judges concur in the granting of the injunction. The Senate this afternoon passed the Overman anti-injunction bill.

HOUSE.

Pleading with the House to purchase buildings for embassies in some of the foreign capitals, Mr. Perkins cited as a reason therefor the "curious incident which lately occurred in Germany." Mr. Perkins' remarks were taken as the first presentation of Dr. Hill's side of the late unpleasantness, when it was reported the kaiser objected to Hill's coming to his court.

"It is safe to say that the disturbance excited in the Court of Berlin on the proposed advent of Dr. Hill was due entirely to social causes, said Mr. Perkins. "When this government owns its own buildings, there will be a better chance for the man of moderate means to make the ends meet, and less chance for the multi-millionaires to expend his wealth in excessive display."

So eloquent was Mr. Burton in telling the House that President Roosevelt should in no way be held responsible for the "present" panic, that a suspicion arose that he was trying to return to the executive fold after straying off the reservation to fight the president's naval policy.

State Attorney Healey, of Chicago, has prepared for submission to the grand jury the confession of Francesco Nicolizzi that the latter poisoned Mary Rena, aged four years, in an attempt to kill her parents. It is believed his jealously of her husband and a desire to get $300 the latter had saved promoted the crime.

The Minnesota republican State convention yesterday elected four delegates at large to the national convention at Chicago and instructed them to vote for the nomination of Taft until he is "released by the convention." This action insures the 22 votes of Minnesota to the Secretary of War, as all the district delegates are under Taft instructions.

Senator Clapp, chairman of the Senate committee on Indian affairs, yesterday received as a present the war bonnet of Chief Plenty Coos, the head of the tribe of Crow Indians of Montana, who recently told the committee that he had taken so many scalps that he could not remember the number. The war bonnet is trimmed with immense eagle feathers and its tail piece sweeps from the head to the ground.

A dispatch from Raleigh, N. C., announced that Rear-Admiral George Beall Balch, United States navy (retired), died there last night of pneumonia. He was 87 years old and for some time had been in failing health. Admiral Balch lived through three eras of naval progress. He was born in Tennesse on January 8, 1821, and when 16 years old was appointed to the Naval Academy from Alabama.

Col. Wm. F. Stewart, of the coast artillery who was sent to Fort Grant, Arizona, an abandoned army post, because he would not accede to the president's wishes that he turn in his resignation, will be transferred to some more agreeable post of coast artillery, probably on the Atlantic coast. This action, it is understood, has been decided upon at a conference between Secretary Taft and the president following repeated requests from several members of Congress, who have acted at the solicitation of Col. Stewart and Mrs. Stewart, who is now in Washington.

The suit of the Southern Railway against the South and Western, involving the latter's alleged encroachment on the Southern's right of way near Marion, N. C., which was to have been heard yesterday before Judge Pritchard in the United States Circuit Court, at Asheville, N. C., has been dismissed, a compromise having been reached. The injunction against the South and Western company, restraining it from proceeding with its construction work at the disputed point, has been dissolved and the Southern's $5,000 bond withdrawn. The terms of the compromise are not known, attorneys for the roads refusing to discuss the case.

Mrs. Duke Released.

Chicago, April 17.—Robert E. Burke, a democratic politician today came to the relief of Mrs. Alice Webb Duke, divorced wife of Brodie L. Duke, tobacco trust manufacturer. He signed a bond of $11,000 for Mrs. Duke and secured her release almost a week in jail, Mrs. Duke was held to the grand jury in allegation of passing worthless paper on a local hotel to the amount of $75.

Virginia News.

The third district democratic committee met in Richmond, yesterday and declared Representative John Lamb the nominee for Congress, no one entering the race in opposiion.

Marriage licenses were issued in Washington yesterday to Harry D. Hansbrough, of Culpeper, and Mary C. Reed, of Fairfax, and to Spencer E. Smith and Lillie V. Dodson, both of Purcellville.

Shortages approximating between five and ten thousand dollars have been discovered in the accounts of John E. Rowe, confidential cashier and bookkeeper for J. B. Mosby & Co., dealers in dry goods, Richmond. It is admitted at the home of Rowe, who is a married man, that he is somewhere in the South.

John Phillips, tried in the Circuit Court of Loudoun county for the murder of Charles Ambers near Luckette, December last, was convicted yesterday and sentenced to twelve years in the penitentiary. Philips testified that the shot was accidentally fired during the scuffle. Ambers was shot in the abdomen and died shortly afterward.

Thermometers at midnight last night at Norfolk registered a temperature of between 36 to 40 degrees above zero and the indications were that a disastrous frost would follow. Fruit and other trees are almost in full leaf, and thousands of acres of vegetables are up and growing. A wind, it would seem, is the only thing that can prevent a killing frost. It blew early in the night, but it lulled.

James P. Jeffries, 55 years old, for several terms Commonwealth's Attorney of Fauquier county, died at his home at Warrenton Wednesday night. He is survived by a widow, who was a Miss Wyer, daughter of the late Rev. H. H. Wyer. One son, James P. Jeffries, jr., and one daughter, Miss Nan Jeffries, also survive him. As a prosecutor but few surpassed him in Virginia. On his first election he defeated the late Col. John Scott after one of the hottest political contest in Fauquier county.

VIRGINIA CLAIMS.

Senator Martin Tuesday proposed a bill in the Senate which, if passed, will largely increase the amount of money going to Virginians in the omnibus war claims bill. It is an addition to the bill already reported which makes provision for the payment of damages to churches, societies and individuals that suffered by the acts of federal soldiers during the war.

The following are the new Virginia items in the bill:

CONGRESSIONAL.

Amidst unusual enthusiasm the naval appropriation bill was passed by the House of Representatives shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon by a vote of 264 to 12. While certain changes were made in the measure, the amount which it carries, more than $103,000,000, is the total recommended by the naval committee. Outside of the change made yesterday respecting the type of the submarine vessels to be built, few amendments were adopted without the approval of members of the committee.

Practically all of yesterday was devoted to the contest over the submarine question. This was settled by a vote of 108 to 104. The House decided to allow the recommendation of the House committee for the building of eight submarine boats at an aggregate cost not exceeding $3,500,000 to stand, but by the same vote it struck out the proviso in the bill which stipulated that these boats should be of the type (Holland) determined to be superior as the result of the competitive tests held under the direction of the Marix board unless a submarine boat of different type and full size for naval warfare should have been constructed by October 1, 1908.

Minority Leader Williams delighted the House with one of the brightest speeches of his career.

Representative Fowler introduced a bill proposing a commission to frame a scientific financial system for the United States.

Representative Smith, of Michigan, offered a bill to establish a system of electric meter inspection in the district.

The District committee reported favorably a resolution repealing the stock inflation clause of the local gas law.

The diplomatic and consular bill will be taken up today, and in the general debate Mr. Burton, of Ohio, will speak on the financial question.

Today's Telegraphic News.

Suicide of a Minister.

Woodbury, N. J., April 17.—Mystery surrounds the suicide here today of Rev. George W. Thompson, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. Dr. Thompson's body was found in his room at his hotel by an employee. A bullet wound in his head told the story of how he met death and beside him was the revolver. Physicians declared the minister had been dead for some time. Dr. Thompson was engaged to marry Mrs. Fannie B. Kenworthy, reported to be very wealthy. He had been pastor of the First Presbyterian Church for ten years and was forty-eight years old. The suicide took a sensational aspect this afternoon with the coupling of the name of another woman with that of Rev. Thompson. This "other woman" was a very close friend of the clergyman and following the announcement of his engagement she is alleged to have had an extremely stormy interview with him at his hotel. The story, as developed by the coroner, is that following the announcement of the clergyman's intent to marry Mrs. Kenworthy the other woman announced that she would prevent the wedding.

Another Gould Divorce Case.

New York, April 17.—Rumors that Frank Jay Gould and his beautiful wife are to be permanently and legally separated apparently took definite form today. Whether papers have actually been served is still uncertain. Delancy Nicoll, Gould's personal counsel, continues to insist "I cannot talk of my clients' affairs, so I will not discuss this matter in any way."

It is whispered that the present reported troubles are due to his jealousy at the admiration his wife's beauty has won from every one who ever met her.

The Goulds were childhood sweethearts. Mrs. Gould, formerly Miss Helen Margaret Kelly, inherited a large fortune from her father.

Struck by a Train.

Wilmington, Del., April 17.—Four months ago Harry Welsh, a well-known young man of Marshallton, was struck by a train at Elsmere, and as a result of his injuries was out for the first time yesterday. Last night he met with a similar accident, this time at Kiamensi station, and was killed. He was driving with Miss Lillian McDugall, also of Marshallton, at the time, and the latter was seriously injured and may not live. The horse became frightened at a passing freight train and ran into the platform at Kiamensi station, throwing Welsh under the wheels of the passing train. Miss McDugall fell on the platform with such force that she sustained a fractured skull and a broken leg.

The Chelsea Fire.

Boston, April 17.—The horror of the Chelsea fire is only developing. Evidence is accumulating to show that the amazingly rapid spread of the flames was aided by incendiaries who fired their own property to recover the insurance. Officers of the State police declared today that they are satisfied that persons whose houses were insured took advantage of the confusion to set the torch to their own property, and estimate the number of such incendiary blazes at more than a score. Although only a small portion of the ruins has been gone over the searchers have found twelve charred bodies, and two persons who died in hospitals from the injuries bring the total death list up to 14.

Passengers Transferred.

New York, April 17.—After spending the night on board the passengers on the Scandanavian liner United States, ran down and partly sunk yesterday by the Ward liner Monteray, were today transferred from the vessel to this city and will continue their voyage tomorrow on the Caronia, of the Cunard line, and the New York, of the American line. The Monterey is at her pier also damaged. Her passengers will be forwarded by the Saratoga, sailing for Havana and Mexico tomorrow. Responsibility for the collision has not yet been placed, as each captain put the blame on the other vessel, and the pilots have not yet reported officially as to the cause of the crash.

Divorced from Minister.

Bristol, Tenn., April 17.—Mrs. Nora Calahan Greening, a bride of six months, was today granted an absolute divorce from her husband, Rev. J. A. Greening, a prominent minister of the Methodist Church South, charging desertion. The marriage of the minister was the society event of last fall. Greening says he left his wife because of "incompatibility of temperament." He did not oppose the action for divorce.

Miner Rescued.

Mahaney City, Pa., April 17.—After being entombed in a mine for more than thirty-six hours, Richard Brown was rescued alive today. Hope had practically been abandoned for him when rescuers penetrated the "pocket" where he had been caught behind a heavy fall of coal. Brown was unhurt and except for his enforce abstinence from eating, which had weakened him, is in good condition.

New York Democrats.

Syracuse, N. Y., April 17.—"There is no doubt now that another democratic State convention will convene in Syracuse shortly, and the delegates selected there seated at Denver," said Melvin Z. Haven, former State committeeman, today. "The recent New York convention was an anarchistic gathering," said he, and "there is an uprising all over the State."

War on League.

Tokio, April 17.—Japanese officialdom in Korea has declared war on the Korean Righteous Army League, which is said to have inspired Durham W. Stevens' assassination in San Francisco. Several arrests have been made of natives said to hold prominent posts in the league. The league is an oath-bound society which is said to have gained formidable strength.

J. C. Lake, president of the Lake Submarine Boat Company, startled the Lilley investigating committee by testifying he knew in advance what the naval board on the Newport submarine tests would report to the Secretary of the Navy before the secretary knew. He got the report from President Berger, of the Berger Subsurface Boat Company; then he said he had found it out by having spent an evening with Mr. Frost, of the Electric Boat Company, and other friends.

The Mauretania's Record.

New York, April 17.—Just a single minute was knocked off the trans-Atlantic record for the long course on the westward voyage from Europe by the giant Cunard liner Mauretania, which arrived today. It was just one minute, also which allowed the Mauretania to establish a record of being the first steamer to ever cover the southerly passage in less than five days. Her record for the 2,889-mile course was 4 days, 23 hours, and 59 minutes. The Lusitania, her sister ship, made the voyage in five days flat. The average speed for the Mauretania's trip was 24.06 knots an hour.

The Situation in Chester.

Chester, Pa., April 17.—The real crisis in the street railway strike is expected to come before night. Four troops of State constabulary, numbering more than 200 men, arrived at noon and the company immediately announced its intention of operating its cars again. It is feared this attempt will lead to rioting and possibly to bloodshed.

The first appearance of the heavily armed troopers overawed the populace

VIRGINIA SUNDAY SCHOOLS.

The Virginia State Sunday School Association, which has been in session in Calvary Baptist Church, Roanoke, since Tuesday, adjourned last night to meet next year at Charlottesville. Taylor, of Roanoke; Dr. Charles Manley, of Lexington; Rev. Henry P. Atkins, of Richmond; Dr. J. W. Manning, of Norfolk; Jacob Umlauf, of Richmond; Rev. Dr. Wallis, of the Theological Seminary, Alexandria; William Hoover, of Timberville; A. E. Householder, of Lovettsville; Arthur Robb, of Herndon; executive committee, T. Dewitt Crane, chairman of Newport News, with seven members, as follows: A. R. Holderby, jr., of Richmond; J. L. Hill, of Richmond; W. P. Boatright, of Danville; S. H. Jones, of Manchester; Henry Lewis Schmelz, of Hampton; and R. K. Pennington, of Jonesville.

NEED ATTENTION.

If there is one portion of our city that should be looked after by the health officers or the city engineer, especially at this season of the year, it is the alleys. If there ever was a need for a gum shoe assistant a trip through some of these thoroughfares would prove. Judging from the appearance of mud, water, filth, etc, I would rather think he would have to wear boots. The alley which has its outlets on Alfred, Columbus and Wolfe streets is about the worst in this city. It seems that all the refuse from the building of the Fairfax apartments is dumped here and left in piles, no attempt made at leveling it—it is unsanitary, to say the least—and the alley is composed of hills and hollows. It is a fact that a water pipe in that alley burst about two years ago and it was only the other day when it was repaired. There are several other alleys which could be mentioned—almost as bad—but space will not admit of mentioning them. If some attention was paid to these necessary things there would be less criticism of the city officials. This can be done without a Colt's revolver or badge. H.

Martin Sheepan and S. Pilcher, old-time enemies, emptied the contest of their double-barrelled shot guns at each other at Ozark, Ala., yesterday. Sheepan was fatally injured. Pilcher escaped, but a posse is now pursuing him.

PROPOSED TABLET.

The following were the papers submitted to the City Council last Tuesday night in reference to the proposed tablet to mark the spot where the Alexandria jail stood in colonial days:

Alexandria, Va.
April 6, 1908.

To the President and Board of Aldermen and the Common Council of Alexandria, Va.

Gentlemen: At a recent called meeting of the First Baptist Church, of this city, the pastor was unanimously requested to ask your honorable body to grant the church the privilege of placing a tablet on the front of the station house, as it is built upon the spot where the old jail once stood, in which Rev. Jeremiah Moore, who organized the First Baptist Church, and who was its first pastor, was three times imprisoned for preaching the gospel. It is a matter of fact and of history, and the church simply wishes to suitably mark the place as a memorial to that distinguished man. The accompanying letter from Hon. Walton Moore, his great-grandson, will throw some light upon it.

Very respectfully and sincerely,
W. F. FISHER,
Pastor of the First Baptist Church.

Rev. Dr. W. F. Fisher.

My dear sir: I have read with great interest your letter of the 2nd inst. which reached me in Fairfax. Rev. Mr. Moore was my great-grandfather, and I have traced his ancestry and career as far as, I suppose, is possible. He is frequently mentioned in the Fairfax records, but I have seen no entry referring to his imprisonment. My father, who is now dead, told me that he saw in the Fairfax clerk's office, prior to the war, a warrant charging Mr. Moore with preaching the gospel without license, and bearing an endorsement showing that he was sentenced to be confined in jail, and another endorsement showing that the sentence was remitted. The warrant in question has disappeared. It was probably destroyed, along with other papers, during the war. I think my grandfather must have been a man of remarkable intellectual and moral qualities and of intense zeal and industry as a minister. Such men as Mr. Wm. Wirt, who was attorney general of the United States and a brilliant orator (see letter in Kennedy's Life of Wirt) regarded him as a speaker of extraordinary power and influence. Such men as Mr. Jefferson corresponded with him on political and religious subjects. For years there was in my possession a volume of letters written by Mr. Moore to a lady in Alexandria on the question of predestination. I loaned this book to an acquaintance who unfortunately lost it. There is still in my possession, I think, the manuscript of an address which he delivered before the Ketocton Association in 1792, containing a discussion of the evils of slavery and a prediction that unless that institution should be abolished, the future would bring upon our country civil convulsion and bloodshed equal to the horrors which were then marking the progress of the French revolution.

I am proud to be the descendant of such a man, and am glad that the memory of his courage and self-sacrifice is to be preserved in the manner proposed.

I am, with much respect, yours very truly,

R. WALTON MOORE.

Rev. Dr. W. F. Fisher, who has been the pastor of the First Baptist Church in this city several years, will preach his farewell sermon the last Sunday in this month. He will later leave with his family to make his home in Concord, Va. As has been stated, Dr. Fisher will resume his labors as a field missionary of the Baptist cause in Virginia. The pulpit supply in the near future will be as follows: May 3, Rev. S. H. Templeman, of Colgate University, Hamilton, N. Y.; May 10, Rev. W. S. Catlett, of Allentown, Pa.; May 17, Rev. W. R. McMillian, and May 24, Rev. L. L. Gwaltney, both of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Ky.

SAID HE HAD BEEN ROBBED.

Arthur Keys, who resides at Manassas, went to the station house yesterday and alleged that he had been robbed during the progress of a poker game in a saloon in the western end of the city Wednesday night. He said he lost about $8. The saloonkeeper subsequently appeared and denied the charge. He said Keys was in his place Wednesday and paid a bill of less than a dollar, and that no poker game had been conducted in the saloon. It was stated that Keys had slept in the street on the night he said he had been robbed. The saloonkeeper gave the man sufficient money to pay his fare to Manassas, but Keys, it appears, spent the money in liquor and was later in the day found by Officer Young helplessly drunk in the vicinity of the jail. He was arrested and brought before the Police Court this morning when he was fined $5.

POLICE COURT.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Arthur Keys, charged with being drunk in the street, was fined $5.

A white man, charged with disorderly conduct at the station house, was fined $5.

A white man, charged with assaulting a colored girl who had attacked one of his children, had his case continued until 5 o'clock this afternoon.

Richard McGuire and Edward Miller, both colored, charged with vagrancy, were fined $5 each.

Carrie Evans, colored, charged with destroying property, was dismissed for want of evidence.

HOLY THURSDAY AND GOOD FRIDAY.

The Last Supper at which the Holy Communion was instituted was commemorated yesterday, Holy Thursday, by the administration of the sacrament and by other services, in churches of many denominations. In St. Mary's church the day was observed with high mass and the procession of the sacrament around the church. The sacrament was carried from the main altar and placed on one of the side altars, where it will remain until tomorrow. In commemoration of the death of Christ, the altars were stripped of all ornaments and candles.

In all of the Episcopal Churches holy communion services were held last night.

This is Good Friday the most solemn fast day of the Christian calendar, commemorating as it does the crucifixion and death of the Saviour. Many faithful communicants of Catholic and Episcopal churches began its observance at sunset yesterday with a strict fast to be continued 24 hours, or until sunset today.

Services were held today in all the churches according to yesterday's announcements. Tomorrow, Holy Saturday, also known as Easter Even, is the last day of Lent and is kept in commemoration of the descent of the Messiah's soul into the place of departed spirits while his body rested in the grave.

GIVES UP ITS DEAD.

About 11 o'clock this morning the tug boat Eugenia, belonging to W. A. Smoot & Co., while on its way to this city, discovered a body floating in the river. The tug stopped and fastened a line to the body and towed it to the wharf of W. A. Smoot & Co., foot of Princess street. A telephone message was immediately sent Maj. Sylvester, of the Washington Police Department, who dispatched the steamer Vigilant to this city which carried the body to Washington. It was at first thought that the body was that of the business man who disappeared from Glen Echo, but some Washingtonians who were on the dock, who knew the missing man, denied this. When the body was taken aboard the harbor boat it was seen to be that of a white man about 50 years of age, short of stature, and his face was covered with short whiskers. He was neatly dressed and had but one arm. In the pockets of his coat were four bricks, evidently proving the suspicion of suicide. Quite a number of people viewed the remains while they were tied to the end of the wharf. Dr. Moore was summoned and viewed the remains, but as the body was found in District waters he turned the matter over to the Washington authorities. The drowned man's face was covered with moss, showing he had been in the water some time.

MRS. BARRETT'S LECTURE.

The address of Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett at the George R. Hill Memorial Building last night on "Are Our Public Schools Safe? or the Influence of the School on the Home," was a masterly effort, abounding in facts, pathos, beauty and wit. It was a stirring appeal to the citizens of Alexandria to take their places in the front ranks of progress, in matters of education. Over a hundred years ago, through the generosity of George Washington, Alexandria boasted of the first normal school in the country. Mrs. Barrett showed how through the co-operation of teachers and parents, not only the head, but the hand and the heart would be educated, thus enabling the young people to be "at home in the world." She advocated a mass meeting of the voters in which plans for the best schools would be discussed—thus the school board would be able to give the people what they wanted. The meeting was held under the auspices of the W. C. T. U., an active and aggressive reform agency.

REQUISITION PAPERS.

Governor Swanson yesterday issued a requisition on the governor of Maryland for the delivery of Rosa B. Tyler to Officer J. D. Beach of Alexandria. The woman is wanted in this city for bigamy. The papers were turned over to Officer Beach by Commonwealth's Attorney Brent this morning and the officer will go to Annapolis, Md., in order to take steps toward bringing the woman from Rockville to this city.

EASTER DANCE.

The Fanchon Pleasure Club are making preparations for their Easter dance next Wednesday at McBurney's Hall, which promises to be one of the most enjoyable affairs of the season. LOADING ICE.

The four-masted schooner Maria O. Teel, which is taking on a cargo on the Kennebec river for this port is expected to arrive here before the end of the present month and the 1,600 tons of ice she will bring will be used in the icing of refrigerator cars laden with berries and fruits from the southern plantations. This will be the second cargo of ice landed at Alexandria for the Mutual Ice Company this spring.

CANDIDATE FOR POSTMASTER.

In the event of the success of the republican candidate for president this fall Mr. Frank Evans, present member of Council from the Fourth ward, and the regularly nominated and defeated candidate of the republican party for the legislature last fall, will be a candidate for the postmastership of this city.

DEATH OF MRS. MURPHY.

Mrs. Polly Murphy, widow of Elisha Murphy, died at her home near the site of the old St. Asaph Junction, a short distance north of this city, last night. The deceased was 85 years old. Mrs Murphy was a daughter of the late Lloyd and Polly Paris, and was born in this city.

STRUCK BY AN ELECTRIC TRAIN

The north bound electric train which left this city at 1:52 this afternoon collided with a wagon of the Connecticut Pie Company at Cameron and Patrick streets. One wheel of the vehicle was smashed and the driver, Bertice Entwisle, and a boy named Willie Foster, who was also in the wagon, were thrown out. Entwisle escaped injury, but Foster's head was seriously cut. He was taken to Dr. Smith's office where he received surgical attention. The accident was caused by an attempt of the driver of the pie wagon to drive across the track in front of the approaching train.

EXCAVATING BURIED CITY.

An appeal is being made on behalf of Professor Flinders Petrie, head of the British School of Archeology in Egypt, for funds to carry out the great work of excavating the ancient city of Memphis, on the Nile, upon which he is about to start in earnest. This is by far the greatest archeological work of recent times, and the results, if Professor Petrie is enabled to pursue the work without interruption, must be a vast addition to our knowledge of ancient Egyptian history and civilization.

Memphis was one of the greatest capitals of the ancient world, but it has long been buried under dust, although thousands of tourists visit the scene every year. It contained the finest school of Egyptian art, and in antiquity and wealth it was unrivalled. But most of the land covering the ancient city is now under cultivation, and the villagers of Mitrahineb, who own and occupy the land, will have to be transferred to other plots and compensated before the work of excavation can progress very far.

The clearing of the site, says Professor Petrie, with gradual exchanges of land it required, will occupy many years, and it is estimated that on expenditure of about $15,000 annually for about 15 years will be required to excavate the temple sites apart from the city.

NOT CAUGHT YET.

The young clubman had been introduced to the beautiful Russian actress. He was charmed, entranced, and he finally led her to the conservatory, where they might have a quiet minute to themselves.

"Pardon me," he said. "I did not quite catch your name."

"What is it that you did not do?" she asked in bewilderment.

"Catch your name."

"Oh, your language is so strange. Do you want my name."

"Yes; your own full name?"

"Will you catch it this time?"

"I'll do my best."

"Well, it's Vera Federovina Kommisarjewskaya."

He muffed it.
